The Daily Courant.

Thurſday, January 1. 1708.

London, January 1.

THE Tranſlations of the 2 following Pieces were communicated to us to be made Publick.

A Memorial of the Reformed People (i. e. Calviniſts) of the City of Breſlau, preſented to the Emperour.

Moſt Illuſtrious, moſt Potent, and moſt Invincible Roman Emperour, King of Hungary and Bohemia.

Moſt Gracious Emperour, King and Lord.

YOUR Imperial and Royal Majeſty has granted ſuch Comfort and Relief to thoſe your faithful States and Subjects of the Dutchy of Sileſia that are of the Confeſſion of Ausburg (i. e. Lutherans) by your late moſt Gracious Agreement to reſtore to them their former Churches and what belongs thereunto, that they ſeem perfectly aſſur'd that notwithſtanding their ill Circumſtances, they have liv'd to ſee the moſt Fortunate and Mild Government over them. This your moſt Gracious Imperial Clemency excites us, who in the Holy Roman Empire, according to the Fundamental Conſtitutions thereof, enjoy in all Parts an equal Liberty of Conſcience with the Lutherans, to have recourſe to your Imperial and Royal Majeſty, in a humble Confidence, that we ſhall ſhare in your moſt Gracious Reſolution publiſh'd the 6th of September in this preſent Year in favour of the Lutherans in Sileſia, the rather, becauſe the ſaid Reſolution of your Imperial Majeſty is grounded not only upon the Treaty lately concluded with his Royal Majeſty of Sweden, but alſo upon the Treaty of Weſtphalia; therefore we live in hopes of being allow'd the benefit of what is granted to the Lutherans in the 5th Article, becauſe the 7th Article of the forenamed Inſtrument of Peace illuſtrates the 5th Article, and is the foundation of our Requeſt; ſince by it the pretended Difference between the Lutherans and the Reformed is beyond all Diſpute removed, and the ſame Rights and Privileges Stipulated therein to the former, are likewiſe granted to us in expreſs Terms.

And whereas moſt Gracious Emperour, King, Duke, and Lord, it is Notoriouſly known, That in 1648, ſeveral Princes in Sileſia, Officers, Inhabitants, and Subjects Exercis'd their Religion in the Chappels at Lignitz and with the ſame Right and Freedom which was allow'd to the Lutherans in other Places: And whereas likewiſe your Imperial Majeſty has lately declar'd, that the Liberty of Religion ſhall not be extinguiſh'd with the Government of the aforenamed Princes, but ſhall have its full and due Effect; We ſupplicate your Imperial and Royal Majeſty in a moſt humble and ſubmiſſive Manner, to grant ſuch a Toleration as is conformable to the ſaid Inſtrument of Peace, and to Allow us again the publick Exerciſe of our Religion. As to what concerns the Place, we moſt humbly conceive that it will be indifferent to your Imperial Majeſty where we ſhall meet, to pray as your moſt faithful Subjects, for your Welfare, and we ſhall moſt humbly ſubmit to your moſt Gracious Reſolution herein: Though with Submiſſion we hope, that the ſame Liberty which was allow'd during the Government of the deceas'd Princes of Lignitz and Brieg by virtue of the Treaty of Peace, will be allow'd us at Breſlau, where now, as formerly at Brieg, moſt of the Reformed Reſide.

We ſhall not be ſo bold as to alledge the Obligation, which your Imperial Majeſty will hereby lay on ſuch Powerful Monarchs and States of the ſame Religion with us, and how this will redound to the Advantage of the Roman Catholick Subjects reſiding in their reſpective Dominions, eſpecially in Matters of Commerce. We referr our ſelves ſolely to your Imperial Majeſty's penetrating Judgment and to your Clemency, from which we expect a moſt Gracious anſwer, and we ſhall continue to live in Peace and Quietneſs and in a moſt ſincere Devotion to your Imperial Majeſty.

The King of Pruſſia's Letter to the Emperour on behalf of the Calviniſts of Breſlau.

YOUR Imperial Majeſty's late Treaty with the King of Sweden, whereby the Lutherans in the Dutchy of Sileſia are reſtor'd to Liberty of Conſcience and a free Exerciſe of their Religion, has not only laid an eternal Obligation on ſuch Potentates as Profeſs the Lutheran Faith, and who for the greateſt Part, are in a ſtrict Alliance with your Majeſty, but your Faithful Subjects, who are of that Religion, are thereby prompted to implore with a new-kindled Zeal God Almighty for your Proſperity; And no doubt the Prayers and Sighs of ſo many Thouſand Souls will be heard, and your Majeſty be further Crown'd with all the Bleſſings that can be ask'd for, and with perpetual Victory over the Enemies of your Glorious Houſe. And whereas your Majeſty in the 10th Article of the forementiond Treaty has declar'd your Conſent, That ſuch Princes and States as are of the Lutheran Perſwaſion may intercede for a more extenſive Liberty of Conſcience; For this Reaſon, and becauſe the 7th Article of the Pacification of Weſtphalia Entitles the Calviniſts to the ſame Priviledges and Rights which are granted therein to the Lutherans; we make the leſs Scruple to ſecond the moſt humble Petition of all the Calviniſts of Breſlau to your Majeſty for a free Exerciſe of their Religion, and for their being reſtor'd to their Churches and other Places of Divine Worſhip, becauſe it will redound to our great great Comfort, if by our Interceſſion they obtain their moſt humble Requeſt.

We therefore deſire your Majeſty to do us this ſingular Piece of Friendſhip, and grant them upon our interceſſion, the requeſted Exerciſe of their Religion, and to reſtore them to their Churches; We ſhall omit no Opportunity gratefully to requite ſuch a Favour; and ſhall beſides, upon all Occaſions give Proofs of our readineſs to, &c.
